Investment Code Bill

2017

THE INVESTMENT CODE BILL, 2017

MEMORANDUM

1. POLICY AND PRINCIPLES

The object of this Bill is to revise, modernize and replace the Investment Code Act and inter alia to make it conform with the Constitution; to continue in existence the Uganda Investment Authority established under that Act; to spell out the objects of the Authority; to redefine the functions of the Authority; to modify the composition of the Board; to provide for the registration of investors and issuing to the investors of investment certificates; to make the Authority a one stop centre for coordination, promotion, facilitation and monitoring of investment and investors; to incorporate provisions relating to finance, accounting and auditing; to provide for the submission of annual reports by the Authority and to provide for other related matters.

2. DEFECTS IN THE EXISTING LAW

The current law on Investment in Uganda is the Investment Code Act Cap. 92, which commenced on 25th January 1991. Due to the passage of time, some aspects of the Investment Code Act have become outdated, especially in the light of the present-day Government policies, emerging international best practices and the legal environment.

In its current form, the Investment Code Act impedes investment as a result of the inadequate protection and facilitation that investors are given. There is, therefore, the need for radical changes in the law to bring it in line with current Government policy.

3. The Board

The governing Board has been found to be unwieldy and it is felt that serious advantages can be derived from the re-composition of the Board as a trim and effective Board to undertake the revised functions of the Authority.

4. Financial provisions

Currently, the Uganda Investment Authority is a statutory body. However, it is not self-accounting and does not run its own vote. This is a major constraint to its operations. Similar statutory bodies are self-accounting and run their own vote. The Uganda Investment Authority only operates as a department under the Ministry responsible for finance.

Furthermore, the Investment Code Act, Cap 92 does not contain any financial provisions.

5. REMEDIES PROPOSED TO DEAL WITH DEFECTS IN THE EXISTING LAW.

It is, therefore, proposed to radically reform the Investment Code Act, Cap 92 and to revise the provisions relating to the Authority's objects and the functions of the Board of the Authority. It is intended to limit the functions of the Authority to coordination, promotion, facilitation, registration and monitoring of investment and investors both foreign and domestic.

6. It is the intention of Government that the tax incentives in respect of investors should not be in the Investment Code Act itself but should remain in the respective tax legislation. It is also proposed that the membership of the Board should be reduced from the present thirteen members to nine members.

7. It is proposed that the Code should be amended to include financial provisions for the Authority. The funds of the Authority will include money appropriated by Parliament; fees and charges levied for the supply of services offered by the Authority; and any other monies received by the Authority.

However, current Government policy is focused on economic liberalization and provision of an enabling environment for private sector investment and growth. It is therefore imperative that this change of direction from control and regulation to promotion and facilitation be reflected in the investment law.

8. Over the years various amendments have been made to the Investment Code Act, but there have been no serious attempt to reform the law to be compatible with emerging international best practices. Despite the amendments referred to above there are provisions of the Investment Code Act which have either been difficult to implement, are discriminatory or are inconsistent with other laws, current Government policies and international commitments.

9. The following are some of the issues addressed in the Bill—

- (a) consolidation of all the amendments to the Investment Code Act;
- (b) repeal of some sections of the Investment Code Act are redundant, difficult to implement or have been overtaken by other legislation;
- (c) harmonisation of some sections of the Investment Code Act that contradict the Constitution and other legislation;
- (d) re-orientation of the investment law and practices from being regulatory and control based to promotion and facilitation;
- (e) incorporation of new policies on the promotion of investment such as regional integration issues, and similar matters;
- (f) repeal of discriminatory provisions between domestic and foreign investors;
- (g) incorporation of 'best practice' measures adopted at the regional and international levels.

Therefore, in view of the above issues identified, the Bill seeks to amend the law on investment and harmonize it with the commitments at regional and international level. These issues, if addressed and incorporated in the new investment law will empower Uganda Investment Authority to use the law as a promotional tool and to help it to effectively implement its mandate.

10. PROVISIONS OF THE BILL

PART I – INTERPRETATION

Part I of the Bill provides for definition and interpretation of words and phrases used in the Bill.

PART II – UGANDA INVESTMENT AUTHORITY

Part II of the Bill in clauses 2 and 3 provide for continuation of the existing Investment Authority. Clause 3 deals with the objects of the Authority and provides inter alia that the Authority shall be the primary agency of Government responsible for coordinating, promoting, registering, facilitating and monitoring of investment in Uganda and advising Government on investment policy and related matters. The Bill is aimed at promoting both foreign and domestic investors.

Clauses 4, 5 and 6 further provide for the institutional framework of the Authority, which includes the Board, committees and a Secretariat of the Authority. The Secretariat shall be under the supervision of the Board and the staff of the Authority shall be public officers.

Clause 8 provides for functions and powers of the Authority for the attainment of the objects of the Authority. The main functions of the Authority are coordination, promotion, facilitation, registration and monitoring of investment and investors.

Clause 9 provides for cooperation with other agencies. There are government ministries, departments and agencies that are responsible for granting approvals to investors, therefore it is important that they cooperate with the Authority to enable it to achieve its mandate.

Clause 10 reflects the new Government policy that the incentives to investors such as exemption from taxes etc are not to be in the Investment Code itself but are to be contained in the respective tax legislation. Clause 11 provides for the meetings of the Board.

PART III – PROCEDURE FOR INVESTMENT

Part III provides for the procedures for investments.

Clause 12 provides for minimum investment capital requirements for investment registration. Clause 13 provides for investment registration by Uganda Investment Authority for the purpose of being facilitated and promoted under the Act.

Clause 14 provides a foreign investor with the opportunities of investing and participation in the operation of a business enterprise in Uganda after registration with the Authority.

Clause 15 provides for investment in scarce resources, which may be permitted in accordance with the relevant laws of Uganda.

Clauses 16, 17 and 18 provides for applications, issue and revocation of investment certificates, respectively.

PART IV – PROTECTION OF INVESTMENTS

Part IV of the Bill in clauses 19 and 20 provides for the protection of investments such as protection in case of compulsory acquisition of a business enterprise. The Part also provides for the settlement of investment disputes.

PART V – FINANCE

Part V comprising clauses 21 – 29 provides for financial matters relating to the Authority including funds, accounting, audit, bank accounts, borrowing powers and financial year.

PART VI – MISCELLANEOUS

Part VI comprising clauses 30 – 36 deals with miscellaneous matters such as disclosure of information (clause 30), annual report (clause 31), service of documents (clause 32), regulations (clause 33), offences and penalties (clause 34), power of Minister to amend Schedule 1 (clause 35) and repeal, savings and transitional provisions (clause 36). Under clause 36 investment licences issued under the existing Investment Code Act, Cap 92 will continue as if they were investment certificates issued under the new Act with necessary modifications to give effect to the new Act.

11. REPEAL OF REDUNDANT PROVISIONS

Having regard to the reform of the role of the Investment Code Act and the functions of the Authority under it, it has become necessary to repeal various sections of Cap 92 relating to the former mode of operation of the Authority under the Code. The provisions which have thus been omitted from the revised Bill are—

- (a) priority areas (section 13);
- (b) exemption of investors from import duties and sales tax (section 21);
- (c) enterprises which qualify for incentives (section 22);
- (d) certificates of incentives (section 23);
- (e) first arrival privileges (section 24);
- (f) additional incentives for certain exporters (section 25);
- (g) obtaining credit from domestic sources by foreign investors (section 26);
- (h) registration of agreements for the transfer of technology or expertise (section 29);
- (i) conditions in agreements for the transfer of foreign technology or expertise (section 30);
- (j) externalisation of approval to externalise funds (section 31);
- (k) effect of certificate of approval to externalise funds (section 32).
